

EARTH AS A SACRED SITE

Join us for a weekend conference for educators, public policy advocates, and Dominican students.

- ▶ Native Historical/Environmental Practices
- ▶ Public Policy Challenges
- ▶ Integrating Native American Wisdom
- ▶ Teaching and Research Strategies
- ▶ Tribal Land Use Partnerships

Program:

July 29, 2005 Friday

6:00pm - 7:30pm Registration and introductions
Snacks provided
7:30pm Opening native prayer
7:45pm - 8:30pm Historical Overview of Native Culture
8:30pm - 9:00pm Q&A

July 30, 2005 Saturday

9:00am - 9:30am Morning gathering
9:30am - 9:40am Native prayer
9:45am - 11:00am Introduction to public policy.
11:00am -11:45am Small group activity

LUNCH 12 - 1:30 pm

1:30pm - 1:45pm Native prayer
1:45pm - 3:00pm Sacred Sites Panel
3:00pm - 3:30pm Break
3:30pm - 5:00pm Small group activity

DINNER 5:30pm - 7pm

7:00pm - 8:30pm Native American storytelling and healing ceremonies.
8:30pm - 9:00pm Q&A

July 31, 2005 Sunday

9:00am - 9:30am Morning gathering
9:30am - 9:40am Morning prayer
9:40am - 11:00am Panel: Environmental Partnerships
11:00am -12:30pm Teaching Strategies; Strategies for Public Policy

BRUNCH 12:30 - 1:30PM

1:30pm - 2:30pm Integrate Ecology and Public Policy
2:30pm - 3:30pm Ecological Action Plans/ Individual or Group
Closing Prayer

Featured Speakers Representing
Coast Miwok
Kashaya Pomo

Conference: July 29, 30, 31, 2005

Meadowlands Hall
Dominican University of California
50 Acacia Avenue, San Rafael, CA

Enrollment $40 for the weekend, includes meals
2 CEU available upon request. ($45/unit)

For further information call:
(415) 482-3545 or (415) 485-3236

Sponsored by:

*Dominican University of California and Graduate Theological Union:
"Sacred Visions and the Social Good Program"
Federated Indians of Graton Rancheria
Marin Museum of the American Indian
Marin Community Foundation*

DOMINICAN
UNIVERSITY of CALIFORNIA
1890

50 Acacia Avenue
San Rafael, CA 94901