

A day at Dominican...

7:52 a.m.
Waking up and debating whether to walk to downtown to eat or start the paper that's due on Wednesday.

10:43 a.m.
Studying coral reef disease and discussing methods to protect marine reserves in preparation for the summer trip to the Galapagos Islands with Dr. Louie.

12:36 p.m.
Grabbing lunch after our monthly student government meeting.

2:11 p.m.
Debating the pros and cons of a free market economy in a global marketplace during a small group discussion.

4:47 p.m.
With some time between classes and dinner, it's off to the library to do some research for class before getting together at the Student Union to watch The Office.

8:46 p.m.
Going crazy when the women's volleyball team gets a big win after sweeping a rival in three straight sets.

Greetings,

My name is Amiya Powell-Hodge and I am the President of the Associated Students of Dominican University of California (ASDU). On behalf of the entire student body, I would like to congratulate you on your acceptance to Dominican and welcome you to our family!

The mission of ASDU here on Dominican's campus is to empower the student body by fostering communication, awareness and respect within the entire Dominican University of California community; this includes students, faculty, staff, administration, and alumni. We offer opportunities to develop as leaders, and are dedicated to making your experience here as enjoyable as possible.

Dominican caters to a very diverse student population and is dedicated to the advancement of students, not only as scholars but also as individuals. I am currently a junior, looking forward to graduating with a degree in Humanities and Cultural Studies and a minor in Leadership. I know that when I leave Dominican I will be able to attribute my successes to the rigorous courses, dedicated faculty and staff, and the friends and family that I have accumulated throughout my journey.

Dominican offers many opportunities for personal and professional growth and I encourage you to take advantage of your time here. Get involved with the various clubs and organizations on campus and use this as an opportunity to meet new people and be a part of something bigger than yourself. Do not be afraid to step outside your comfort zone and explore what the world has to offer you; it makes a difference in your development as a person.

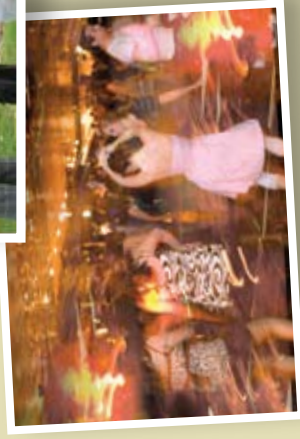

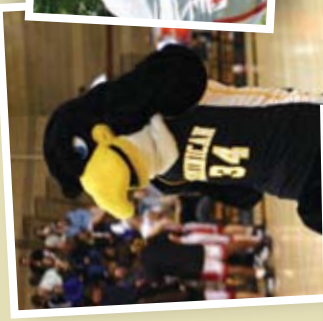

Once again, congratulations on your acceptance to Dominican University of California. I look forward to seeing you all on campus!

Sincerely,

Amiya Powell-Hodge
