Dominican University of California needs more information regarding your high school completion status as reported on the FAFSA to determine your eligibility for financial aid.

When you begin college in the 2021-22 school year, what will be your high school completion status?

Please check ONE of the following answers to the question above and attach the appropriate supporting documentation:

- I will have completed high school and will have a High School Diploma by the time I start college courses for the 2021-22 academic year (attach a copy of your High School Diploma OR a copy of your final transcript showing a graduation date).
- I will have obtained my General Education Development (GED) Certificate by the time I start college courses for the 2021-22 academic year (attach a copy of your GED Certificate or official GED transcript that indicates you passed the exam).
- I will have passed a state-authorized examination that is recognized by my state as the equivalent of a High School Diploma by the time I start college courses for the 2021-22 academic year (attach a copy of your exam results showing proof of passing – the CAHSEE is NOT recognized as the equivalent of a high school diploma).
- I will have completed high school in a homeschool setting by the time I start college courses for the 2021-22 academic year (attach a transcript signed by the parent/guardian which lists all secondary courses completed and documents the successful completion of a secondary school education OR a secondary school completion credential for homeschool provided under State law).
- I will have completed at least a two-year program that is acceptable for full credit towards a bachelor's degree by the time I start college courses for the 2021-22 academic year (attach a copy of your transcript showing completion of the program).
- None of the Above apply to me

If checking None of the Above, please answer the following and provide documentation as requested:
